

JOSEPH R. WALKER, President,

MATTHEW H. WALKER, Vice President.

M. J. CHEESMAN, Cashier.

L. H. FARNSWORTH, Asst. Cashier.

No 3306.

The Union National Bank

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY.

Capital & Overland 1st Co Denver, Colo.

Salt Lake City, April 3rd. 1889.

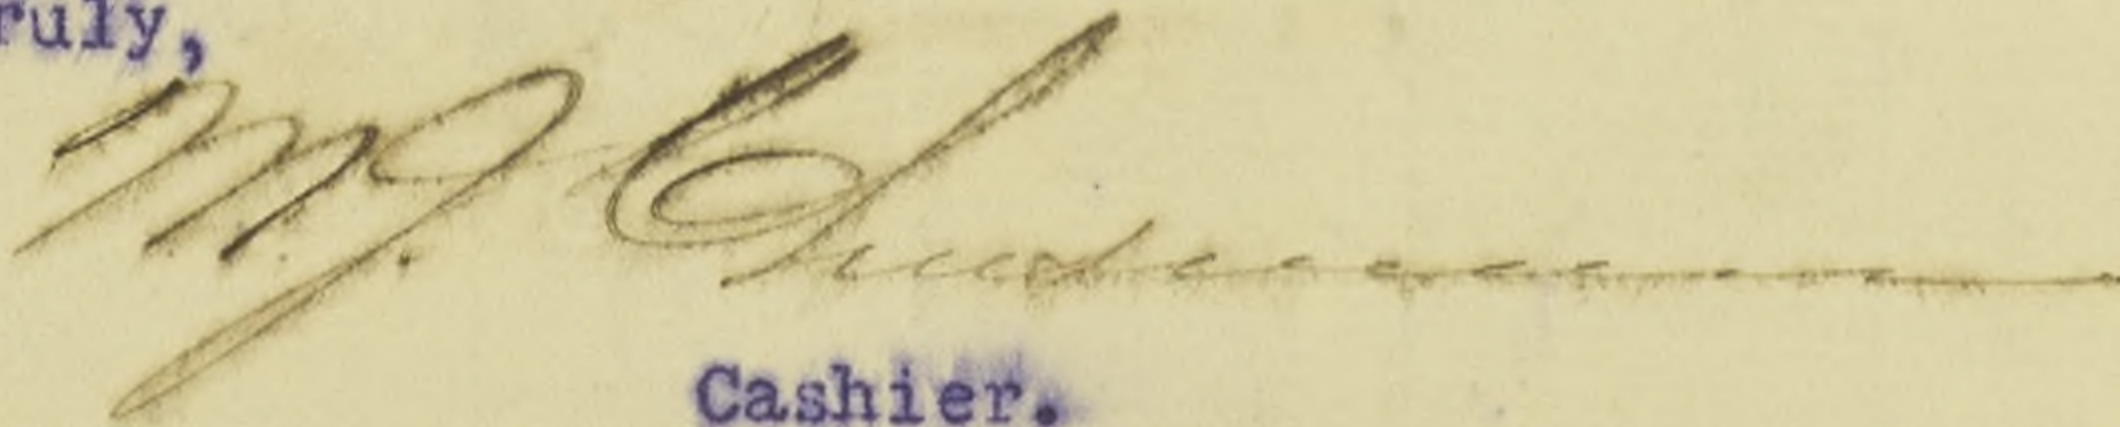

The Superintendent of the Mint,

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir;

I would thank you to inform me of the rules and regulations governing United States Mints as to the manner of procuring ^{new} ~~now~~ coins of the denominations of Dimes; Quarter-Dollars; Half-Dollars and Standard Dollars. Will they be forwarded to us free of charge upon the payment to you of our draft on New York City? or will it be necessary to deposit with you money for same? The Asst. Treas. at San Francisco will forward to us, charges pre-paid, old coins of the above denominations, but we prefer to have new coins if they can be obtained without cost of expressage etc. Your early answer will oblige,

Yours truly,

Cashier.

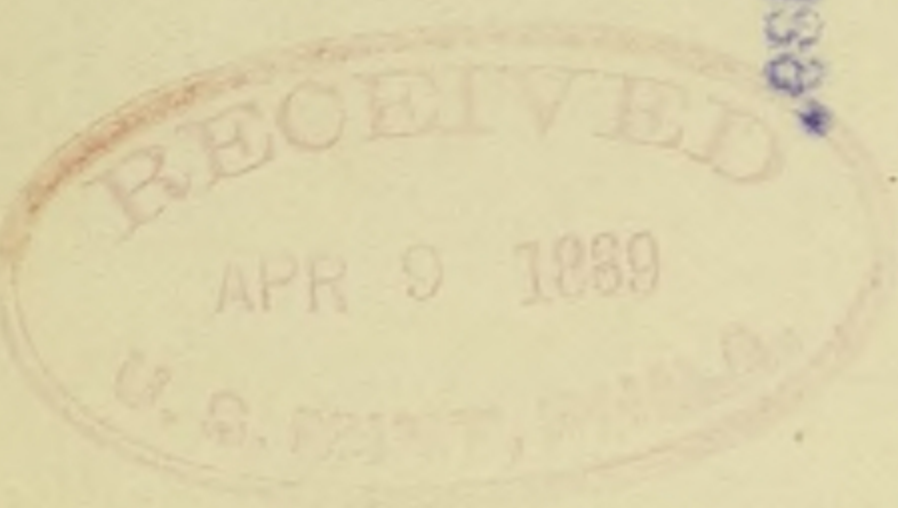

1062

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 3, 1889.

Union National Bank

Asks information as to rules and regulations governing U. S. Mints, in procuring New Coins of different denominations.

April 3rd. 1889.

Dear Sir:

I would thank you to inform me of the rules and regulations governing United States Mints as to the manner of procuring new coins of the denominations of Dimes; Quarter-Dollars; Half-Dollars and Standard Dollars. Will they be forwarded to us free of charge upon the payment to you of our draft on New York City & or will it be necessary to deposit with you money for same? The West. Press. at San Francisco will forward to us 'charged pre-paid' old coins of the above denominations, but we prefer to have new coins if they can be obtained without cost or expense etc. Your early answer will be appreciated.

Yours truly,

Manager.

[Abstract:] Asks information as to rules and regulations governing U.S. Mints...

No. 3306

The Union National Bank
Salt Lake City,
April 3, 1889

The Superintendent of the Mint,
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir;

I would thank you to inform me of the rules and regulations governing United States Mint as to the manner of procuring new coins of the denominations of Dimes; Quarter-Dollars; Half-Dollars and Standard Dollars. Will they be forwarded to us free of charge upon the payment to you of our draft on New York City? Or will it be necessary to deposit with you money for same? The Asst. Treas. at San Francisco will forward to us, charges pre-paid, old coins of the above denominations, but we prefer to have new coins if they can be obtained without cost of expressage etc. Your early answer will oblige,

Yours truly,
M.J. Cheesman
Cashier